Create a short reflection:

1. How have you contributed to CSPC Vision & Mission so far?

- A fundamental mission lies at the heart of my educational journey, to break the bonds of poverty through great polytechnic education and revolutionary technology innovation. This mission has an unbreakable connection to a lofty goal: to give Bicolanos with the best in polytechnic education. As a student, I am not only a beneficiary of this transformative mission, but also an active participant, working to gain knowledge and skills that will not only liberate me from constraints, but will also enable me to contribute to a future defined by progress, opportunity, and positive change for myself and my community. Sharing my knowledge and skills with my peers through study groups, workshops, or peer tutoring can contribute to enhancing the overall educational experience, as can showing a commitment to lifelong learning and staying current on industry trends, which can align with the vision of providing "Polytechnic education at its best."

2. How do you plan to live up to CSPC's Vision and Mission in your remaining time in the institution?

- Possibly I envision myself as a student of the institution, striving for academic achievement by actively engaging in my studies, participating in class discussions, and completing projects to the best of my abilities. A strong academic foundation contributes to the institution's mission of providing world-class polytechnic education; and approach my studies and interactions with a positive and proactive mindset. Being a role model for dedication and passion benefits the overall environment at CSPC.
